NOTHING FOR THE SOUTH.

Though the President Appoints Several Important Officials.

RIG LOUISVILLE ASSIGNMENT.

Minister in Central Kentucky Praying for Rain.

SOME OTHER LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The President today filled a foreign mission and five consulates, but none came South.

AWAY GOES CIVIL SERVICE. If President McKinley Endorses This Rolling.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The assistant secretary of the treasury declares that the collectors of internal revenue can remove every civil servant. If McKinley endorses this, it will result in every Democrat in the revenue service being turned out.

BREAK IN BUT.

Assignment of the Oldest Brewery in Louisville.

Louisville, Oct. 4.—The Phoenix Brewery, the oldest in this city, made an assignment this morning.

PRAYING FOR RAIN.

Action of the Minister of a Central Kentucky Town.

Hartsville, Ky., Oct. 4.—The ministers of all the churches in this city united today in a prayer for rain. The drought is most distressing and is causing a vast amount of suffering among stock and a great loss to the farmers.

BYRON WILL SPEAK.

The $150 Raised and the Will Be Here the 13th Inst.

Hon. W. J. Bryan will speak in Paducah on the afternoon or evening of the 13th inst.

This was decided today by a meeting of the free silver men, and no difficulty will be encountered in raising the necessary amount, $150, to pay for a special train. In fact the amount has practically been subscribed.

ARM BROKEN.

A Little Girl Breaks Her Arm Twice.

The eight-year-old daughter of Mr. W. L. Foster, who resides on Bernheim Avenue, yesterday fell from a fence and broke her left arm.

The peculiar thing is that five weeks ago the same girl fell off the same fence in the same place and broke the same arm in the same place. It is likely that her father will be kept off the fence to save doctors' bills if not bones.

FILL OF FUS.

"Hogan's Alley" at Morton's Wednesday Night.

"Hogan's Alley," that will appear at Morton's open house Wednesday night, is universally pronounced the hottest potato hot ever came out of a theatrical oven, and is as full of fun as an egg is full of meat, and there is not a dry moment in it. So bring your wife, your children and sweetheart and enjoy an evening of hilarity with Mickey Hogan and the "Yellow Kid."

RIGHT OF WAY

Blocked by a Small House on the River Front.

Interesting Controversy Between Mr. Erack Owen and the Illinois Central.

Considerable interest has been manifested in the controversy between Mr. Erack Owen and the Illinois Central railroad company, which has been going on for some time.

Mr. Owen, who is a well-known agent, purchased some land down in what is known as "Dogtown" for the purpose of erecting a storehouse for grain.

When the railroad officials of the I. C. learned of his ever-ready front, they were very much annoyed.

Commissioners were appointed to appraise the land, and the value of the land was fixed at $100.

Mr. Owen, however, paid $1,000 for the land, and he now has the county court.

A jury there returned a verdict of $100, and Mr. Owen took an appeal to the circuit court.

The circuit court in its decision yesterday directed in front of the storehouse being constructed, and the railroad company was to build a fence around it and to remove the storehouse.

They now have a decision.

and will tear down the house and build on as if it were not there.

Mr. Owen stated this morning that he would contest the case to the end.

A representative of the railroad company said that the company was the legal owner of the property, and that was sufficient to justify its course.

It will probably be the latter part of the week before the workmen reach the house.

DRESS CAUGHT IN WHEEL.

Miss Mamie O'Brien Painfully Hurt.

Miss Mamie O'Brien was painfully injured this morning in Meeklandeburg, in front of Mr. Jesse Gilbert's drug store.

She was riding a bicycle, and her dress became caught in the spokes in some way. She was thrown on her left shoulder, and her clothing was badly torn. Dr. Gilbert and Mr. Goodman, the barber, extricated her from her position, and rendered her what assistance they could.

$100,000 UP IN SMOKE.

Fire on North Second Street Saturday.

Witnessed by Quite a Crowd of Interested Spectators.

There was a $100,000 blaze on North Second street Saturday night, and neither of the Sunday papers had a word about it.

Early in the evening a bundle of papers, representing about $100,000 in real estate, was destroyed by fire.

But then the alarm. They were destroyed. They were not destroyed. They were not destroyed. They were not destroyed.

The boys gave the names of Alexander and Roubard, and made their escape. But are believed to be the same boys, Walker and Dodd, who were arrested at once and committed Saturday night's burglaries.

Both are old offenders. Walker has been guilty of several thefts and burglaries that entitled him to stripes, but he was always released on account of his age.

Dodd has served a term in the Illinois reformatory school, and is the same youth struck in the head with a stone bottle down on the wharf a few months ago by Will Rogers.

This morning Marshall Collins had several suspects under arrest also, and expected the marshal from Paris to identify the prisoners from the first train.

PETRIFIED HAM.

A Marshall County Farmer Finds One

Twenty Feet Below the Surface, While Digging a Well.

Henry Keller, who resides near Paris, Marshall county, was digging a well a few days ago on his farm.

When a depth of about twenty feet was reached, the workmen struck a substance which, when hauled to the top and examined, proved to be a petrified ham.

It has proven quite a curiosity in the neighborhood, and many people have seen the peculiar petrification, and pronounce it a perfect ham.

How a ham could have gotten that far beneath the surface is a deep mystery.

YOUTHFUL THIEVES.

Stanley Walker and Sam Dodd Embark Early

IN HOUSEBREAKING BUSINESS.

Caught in Paris, Tenn., With Goods Stolen Here, But Escaped.

NOW IN THE COUNTY JAIL.

Stanley Walker and Sam Dodd, two of Paducah's most youthful criminals, were arrested this morning on a charge of housebreaking. Some of the stolen goods were found on them, and they are suspected of numerous other things.

Officers Eaker and Johnson made the arrests, and found some shoes, pocketbooks and other articles stolen from Ellis, Rudy & Phillips last Saturday night.

The boys are also suspected of being the thieves who stole about $75 worth of jewelry from the office of the Paducah Transfer Company a few days ago in broad daylight.

Mr. Tardel Lammie, the bookkeeper, had stepped out for only a few moments, and when he returned he ascertained that during his absence a drawer in the safe, which had been left open, had been opened and a box containing a ladies' watch, and four or five rings, had been extracted and stolen.

The marshal at Paris, Tenn., arrested two negro boys a few days ago with the stolen jewelry, which, by communicating with Marshal Collins here, he learned was stolen here.

The boys gave the names of Alexander and Roubard, and made their escape. But are believed to be the same boys, Walker and Dodd, who were arrested at once and committed Saturday night's burglaries.

Both are old offenders. Walker has been guilty of several thefts and burglaries that entitled him to stripes, but he was always released on account of his age.

Dodd has served a term in the Illinois reformatory school, and is the same youth struck in the head with a stone bottle down on the wharf a few months ago by Will Rogers.

This morning Marshall Collins had several suspects under arrest also, and expected the marshal from Paris to identify the prisoners from the first train.

LOWERY LEAVES.

Principal Witness for the Prosecution Skips.

BENTON GREATLY EXCITED.

He is Supposed to Have Left to Keep From Testifying—Some Hint That He May.

HIS RELATIVES PUBLICLY QUESTIONED.

Considerable excitement has been created at Benton over the sudden disappearance of Stanford Lowery, the principal witness for the prosecution in the Noah Franklin murder case.

Today when court convened an effort was made to find him, or to ascertain his whereabouts, by subjecting his sister and others supposed to know where he had gone, to a rigid interrogation, threatening them with indictments for perjury if they were found to misrepresent facts, but all professed the most utter ignorance as to whereabouts.

Unless he is found, it is not evident how the case can proceed. While the consensus of opinion is that Lowery has skipped out to avoid testifying, some hint that he has met with foul play.

Today little has been done in the case, but some testimony has been heard.

Annie Ramsey Became Ram-bunctious Yesterday.

Created Great Excitement at the Jail Yesterday Afternoon.

Annie Ramsey, in jail under sentence of the circuit court for malicious cutting, and awaiting transportation to Frankfort for a year created great excitement in the vicinity of the jail yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. In a short time about a hundred people had been attracted to the building by her cries of "murder," "murder," etc., and for some time it could not be ascertained what was up. Jail Miller arrived in a short time, however, and after an investigation informed those present that the woman was using obscene language in her cell, on account of a difficulty with Ida Elber, another prisoner, and an attempt was made to change her. She became more profane than ever, and the cries heard were when an attempt was made by the jail officials to gag her. They finally succeeded, and her profanity was curbed, for the time being, at least.

FRACTURED PIPE.

Objection Raised to It, So It Was Dug Up and Repaired.

There was some little stir at the sewerage excavation on Third street between Madison and Harrison streets this morning.

It appears that some pipe had been laid and covered with some of the inspectors objected to, and after some discussion, one section was dug up and replaced.

According to the statements of some, a joint with a piece of the flange broken off was laid, and Inspector Whitted and Major Bates, the latter of the sewerage committee, objected to it and insisted that it be replaced.
